Excerpt from The Landmark of Freedom: Speech of Hon. Charles Sumner, Against the Repeal of the Missouri Prohibition of Slavery North of 36 30, in the Senate, February 21, 1854 It is with regard to this territory, that you are now called to exercise the grandest function of the lawgiver, by establishing those rules of polity which will determine its future character. As the twig is bent the tree inclines; and the influences impressed upon the early days of an empire, like those upon a child, are of inconceivable importance to its future weal or woe. The bill now before us, proposes to organize and equip two new territorial establishments, with governors, secretaries, legislative councils, legislators, judges, marshals, and the whole machinery of civil society. Such a measure, at any time, would deserve the most careful attention. But, at the present moment, it justly excites a peculiar interest, from the effort made - on pretences unsustained by facts - in violation of solemn covenant, and of the early principles of our fathers - to open this immense...
