Tantor Media, Inc, United States, 2007. CD-Audio. Book Condition: New. Unabridged. 190 x 137 mm. Language: English . Brand New. An acclaimed novelist and former 60 Minutes producer grandly reinvents the Dracula epic in the halls of a certain television newsmagazine In the annals of business trips gone horribly wrong, Evangeline Harker s journey to Romania on behalf of her employer, the popular television newsmagazine The Hour, deserves pride of place. Sent to Transylvania to scout out a possible story on a notorious Eastern European crime boss named Ion Torgu, she has found the true nature of Torgu s activities to be far more monstrous than anything her young journalist s mind could have imagined. The fact that her employer clearly won t get the segment it was hoping for is soon the very least of her concerns. Back in New York, Evangeline s disappearance causes an uproar at the office and a wave of guilt and recrimination. Then suddenly, several months later, she s heard from: miraculously, she s convalescing in a Transylvania monastery, her memory seemingly scrubbed. But then who was sending e-mails through her account to The Hour employees? And what are those great coffin-like boxes of objects delivered to the office in her name from the Old Country? And why does the show s sound system appear to be infected with some strange virus, an aural bug that coats all recordings in a faint background hiss that sounds like the chanting of place-names? And what about the rumors that a correspondent has scored an interview with Torgu, here in New York, after all? As a very dark Old World atmosphere deepens in the halls of one of America s most trusted television programs, its employees are forced to confront a threat beyond their wildest imaginings, a threat...
